SOUL TELEHOUSING

Soul's Telehousing

For many organisations, building and expanding the facilities that house network architecture can be the roadblock to success. Companies in a variety of industries are seeking faster, more economical ways to deploy their networks.

As a result, many have discovered the advantages of Soul's Telehousing services. Soul is the largest independently owned network in Australia and has extensive reach covering every Call Collection Area within Australia.

Soul's Telehousing services enable you to use our world-class facilities, network and support services rather than investing in your own. Our Telehousing provides guaranteed performance and reliability; factors that are so crucial to IP Centric organisations.
